

It's Never Too Late

Words and music by Jenica Rayne © 2004

i feel the train coming rolling down the track i've got a one-way ticket and i won't be coming back it's time to get rolling there's no turning back do you ever get the feeling? don't you ever get the urge?

when your feet keep saying yes yes yes
but your heart's stuck in reverse
get through the gate get rolling you know it's never too late it's like the flow of the river

the motion of your mind
like the ever changing seasons it's just a matter of time

like thunder through my veins
it's come to carry me away
come on get you rolling
it's never too late
