

Love

Words and music by Jenica Rayne © 1999

in the dawning of an age yet to be explained
everybody's changing
for themselves
questioning the difference between time and my own door i've been holding onto things i don't want them anymore

its ok you can go
i'm not afraid anymore
cause we have love

through the dusty wings of what i know
you flew into my dreams
i woke this morn
and surprised myself
i heard my voice say

its ok you can go
i'm not afraid anymore
it's ok you can leave
my tears are not what they seem
oh my love

in the dawning of this time i almost read your mind as you like wake like
on the bed
closed my eyes to say goodbye swear to god i felt
your spirit fly away
oh my love

its ok you can go
i'm not afraid anymore
it's ok you can leave
my tears are not what they seem
oh my love
oh my love